President's Message

January 2026

2

Hello to my fellow chapter members. Welcome to our personal (and chronological) new year. It may not be your company's fiscal new year or the chapter's, but for most of the world it is a time for hopeful change and resolutions. What will you do with your opportunity?

I hope you will help the next in line in our profession, and even if it is just answering their genuine LinkedIn message. I will say from anecdotal experience, it is a powerful tool for the genuinely curious in our profession. So make that connection, reach-out, and ask that question. I have learned so much just from asking around LinkedIn, our chapter, and our executive committee. When I was told to build my network on day one at UCM, they were serious. On some occasions you are as only as strong as your network.

A thank you is in order to our new sponsors: Progressive Safety and Safety Culture, platinum sponsors, and US Compliance, gold sponsor. We look forward to having you all host a table and a brief presentation at one of our upcoming meetings. You allow us to provide a host of opportunities for our chapter, and our students, just like our members do.

I am excited for our upcoming meeting at Midwest Public Risk featuring attorneys Andrew Brought, and Paul Jacobson on OSHA's outlook and current enforcement trends. This is all during January 23rd's lunch meeting of which I hope to see you there.

Thank you to our members who keep our chapter and our society going. If you have any ideas on providing you more value, please attend a meeting, join our executive committee Teams call, take a survey, or reach out to us.

Respectfully,

Michael Carlson, CSP
